SUPERVISOR WILCOX SETS EXAMPLE

(PHOENIX, September 17) — Along with the rest of the America, Maricopa County is doing its part to assist the families and friends of victims in Tuesday's New York and Washington D.C. attacks. Supervisor Mary Rose Wilcox set an example today by donating her blood to the American Red Cross.

"Donating blood is just one way we can help. If we all continue to do our part, I believe we can make a lasting difference," Wilcox said.

County employees will have plenty of opportunities to donate blood. The American Red Cross will be set up at various County departments over the next two weeks. Maricopa County traditionally has blood drives throughout the year. More information can be found online at www.maricopa.gov/budget/blood_Drive/schedule/2001/fall.
